La cinquième saison by Reine Taëvran regroups drawings and books.

The technique is centred on the black of the ink and the deposit left on the paper where textures appear, the density and nuances of the colour along with the charnel part of the detail.

The books are hand bound. They are each time a poetic tentative between drawing and writing.

Unique, they suppose a format exigency, of covering, of matter, of creation.

A passage from La Douche, an autobiographical account, will be read during a dedication evening.
